Day Camps

FUTURE ARTIST CAMP CHILDREN'S SUMMER ART CAMPS

Huntington Beach Art Center will be welcoming eight contemporary artists to its new look Summer Art Camp Program which is available as a half-day session. Campers aged 6-12 will be able to select from a strong line up which includes: Patrick Williams, Otis Bardwell, Kelly Nye, Andre Woodward, Tim McGraw, Nathan Huff and Carleton Christy. Our professional artists have been carefully selected and work in a range of fields. They have devised week long art projects that relate to their area of expertise. Campers will also benefit from a core art activities program, taught by Art Center instructors, to ensure that they get to explore and experiment with a range of art materials and techniques. A health form for each child must be completed by parents/ guardians and turned in the first day of camp session. Included in the camp enrollment fee: one camp tee shirt per child and all art materials. Camp size is limited to 40 children per session. Campers cannot enroll in more than three sessions.

FUTURE ARTIST CAMP: PRINT MATTERS

Artist Carleton Christy examines the beauty of everyday objects through a close attention to detail, turning crowded kitchens and workshops into scenic displays. Carleton transforms urban environments through drawing and printmaking techniques. Campers will explore a range of printmaking techniques including linoleum printing and screenprinting which will be based on their own drawings from observation.

FUTURE ARTIST CAMP: CONSUMED

Artist Kelly Nye designs wearable sculptures from wool, felt, silicone and metal that deal with consumption and the body. Campers will create projects using found objects, packaging and silicone as elements from popular culture transformed into wearable art or jewelry and sculpture. Campers will learn about such artists as Claes Oldenburg, Felieke van der Leest and Philip Treacy for inspiration.
